SEEKING VOLUNTEERS

Sharing knowledge. Empowering Communities.

Volunteers are needed to help with school programs, help desks, demonstration gardens, and horticulture therapy. This is a great way to share your love of plants, the environment, and gardening with others in our community.

This training will give you the background information to be a successful volunteer. The course is taught by extension agents and professionals in the horticulture industry.

Registration Fee is $155 and will cover the master gardener training manual, training materials, and speaker fees. You MUST attend one of the Orientation Meetings being held in December (see list below).

Deadline for payment is January 4, 2019.
